

Alvoxcon USB Lapel Mic System

The Alvoxcon USB Lapel Mic System is under $100 and is basically a plug and play wireless microphone system. It comes with two pieces: one part plugs into a computer, iPhone or android, and the other part is a rechargeable microphone.

It could be used with a smart device with a text to speech app so that the person with a hearing loss can hand the microphone part to the person that is speaking and the person with hearing loss can read on their smart device what the person is saying up to 100 feet away.

Also, it can be used with the computer for remote cart or Rhode Island Relay Conference Captioning (RCC) where the microphone part is passed around to the participants at a meeting so that the remote interpreter can hear them clearly. RCC is a free service for Rhode Islanders who have a hearing loss to actively participate in conference calls or webinars on a laptop or mobile device with a high-speed Internet connection.

For more information on RCC, visit:

<https://rhodeislandrelay.com/wp-content/uploads/2020/07/Rhode-Island-RCC-Flyer.pdf>

To book a RCC event, visit:

<https://www.tmobileaccess.com/rhodeIsland>

For more information on the Alvoxcon USB Lapel Mic System, visit:

Amazon.com: Wireless lavalier Microphone Compatible for iPhone & Computer -Alvoxcon USB Lapel Mic System for Android, PC, Laptop, Speaker, Podcast, Vlog, YouTube, Conference, Vocal Recording with Phone Adapter : Musical Instruments

